Call for Submissions

Dear Professors, Practitioners, and Scholars of Family Law,

The Canadian Journal of Family Law is a refereed journal published twice a year. We are seeking English and French submissions to be included in our upcoming issues. All submissions are reviewed by qualified external reviewers prior to publication.

We invite submissions of articles, case commentaries, and book reviews pertaining to all aspects of family law in Canada or of a comparative nature from members of the legal, social science, psychological, medical, political science, and other disciplines and from legal practitioners.

We welcome your contribution.
